[redacted] called me again and was quite unhappy and upset that we had been unable to effect his reassignment. I told him that there was nothing more I could do and suggested that he have a talk with Mr. Kirkpatrick. I also advised Kirk that I had referred [redacted] to him.

2. Mr. Dulles and General Cabell reviewed all of the charts which we had prepared for the "manpower" presentation, after which Mr. Dulles notified Senator Russell that we were ready to give him this briefing and stated that he hoped we would be able to do so sometime in the near future.

3. Doctors Tietjen and [redacted] were over to brief me on bomb damage which might be expected from a hydrogen bomb and will give a brief presentation on this subject at the Staff Meeting on Wednesday. However, I asked them to make sure that this was coordinated with [redacted] since it did fall primarily in the field of emergency planning.
